Title: HUB IDU CARD INSERT PANEL

PETITION TO WITHDRAW HOLDING OF ABANDONMENT BASED ON FAILURE TO RECEIVE OFFICE ACTION
AND IN THE ALTERNATIVE A PETITION TO REVIVE AN ABANDONED
APPLICATION UNDER 37 CFR §1.137(a) OR UNDER 37 CFR §1.137(b)

Commissioner for Patents
P.O. Box 1450
Alexandria, Virginia 22313-1450

Sir:

Applicant hereby petitions the Office to withdraw the holding of abandonment of this application based on failure to receive an Office Action under MPEP §711.03(c). In the alternative, Applicant hereby petitions to revive an abandoned application under 37 CFR §1.137(a) or under 37 CFR §1.137(b).

Applicant submits herewith:

- a. a copy of a date stamped Change of Correspondence Address filed September 4, 2002 as Exhibit A;
- b. a copy of the docket record where the nonreceived Office Action would have been entered had it been received as Exhibit B;

c. an Amendment responsive to an Office Action dated July 30, 2004 as Exhibit C; and

d. a Petition Fee as set forth in 37 CFR § 1.17(l) else 37 CFR § 1.17(m).

PETITION TO WITHDRAW HOLDING OF ABANDONMENT BASED ON FAILURE TO RECEIVE OFFICE ACTION

The undersigned hereby states that the Office Action mailed from the Office on July 30, 2004 was not received by the practitioner and that a search of the file jacket and docket records indicate that the Office Action was never received.

Subsequent to a personal interview with Examiner Thanh Phan held in June 2003, the undersigned inquired of the status of the application after a timely substantive Office Action was not received and was informed that an Office Action would be forthcoming. Approximately one year later, the Office Action was mailed to an incorrect address on July 30, 2004.

Applicant contacted Mr. Phan by telephone in an effort to determine the status of the application again in June 2005. The undersigned was informed by Mr. Phan that the subject application had been abandoned due to failure to respond to an Office Action. A copy of the Office Action was obtained from the Patent and Trademark Office Image File Wrapper database and the undersigned discovered that the Office Action, dated July 30, 2004, had indeed been sent to an incorrect address. The PTO records indicated that the Office Action was mailed to the following correspondence address on July 30, 2004:

L. Lawton Rogers, III
Suite 300
1401 Eye Street, N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20005

However, the undersigned had previously filed a change of correspondence address with the Patent and Trademark Office on September 5, 2002 identifying the new correspondence address of:

Mark C. Comtois
Duane Morris LLP
1667 K Street, N.W.
Suite 700
Washington, D.C. 20006

A true and correct copy of the change of correspondence address and date stamped post card identifying the paper is submitted herewith as Exhibit A.

The undersigned hereby states that the Office Action was not received by the attorneys of record in the application. A copy of the docket for the working period in which the Office Action should have been docketed from the date of mailing of the Office Action to the date three months after is submitted herewith as Exhibit B. The docket shows that a reply to the Office Action was not docketed as it would have been in the ordinary course of business if the Office Action had been received. The undersigned hereby states that the docketing clerk whose duties included recording and docketing office actions possessed sufficient training in the necessary docketing duties. The docketing clerk executed the aforementioned duties with the attorneys of record for not less than four years prior to the date of the filing of the Office Action for the subject application.

PETITION TO REVIVE AN ABANDONED
APPLICATION UNDER 37 CFR §1.137(a)

In the alternative, the undersigned hereby petitions the Office to revive the abandoned application under 37 CFR §1.137(a).

37 CFR §1.137(a) requires that an adequate showing of the cause of the delay, and that the entire delay in filing the response from the due date thereof until the filing of a grantable petition under 37 CFR §1.137(a) was unavoidable.

As stated above, it appears that the undersigned did not receive the Office Action due to a mistake by the Patent and Trademark Office. Further and as required by the statute, the showing of a business routine for performing the clerical function that may be relied upon to avoid docketing errors and an attestation of the docketing training held by the undersigned's docketing clerk is also discussed above.

PETITION TO REVIVE AN ABANDONED
APPLICATION UNDER 37 CFR §1.137(b)

Further in the alternative, the undersigned hereby petitions the Office to revive the abandoned application under 37 CFR §1.137(b).

As required by 37 CFR §1.137(b), Applicant hereby states entire delay in filing the response from the due date thereof until the filing of a grantable petition under 37 CFR §1.137(b) was unintentional.

Information regarding the unintentional nature of the delay is disclosed in the preceding paragraphs.

Applicant now petitions the Office to withdraw holding of abandonment based on failure to receive Office Action.

Favorable consideration of this Petition and acceptance of the Amendment is solicited.

SUMMARY

In view of the above, Applicant hereby petitions the Office to withdraw the holding of abandonment of this application based on failure to receive an Office Action under MPEP §711.03(c). In the alternative, Applicant hereby petitions to revive an abandoned application under 37 CFR §1.137(a) or under 37 CFR §1.137(b).

Entry of the attached Amendment is hereby respectfully requested. A further and favorable Action is hereby respectfully requested.

Respectfully submitted,

By:

Title: HUB IDU CARD INSERT PANEL

AMENDMENT

Commissioner for Patents
P.O. Box 1450
Alexandria, Virginia 22313-1450

Sir:

Responsive to the Office Action dated July 30, 2004, Applicant submits the following remarks:

Applicant's Amendment to the drawings begins on sheet 2 of this Amendment.

No new matter has been added;

Applicant's Amendment to the specification begins on sheet 3 of this Amendment.

No new matter has been added;

Applicant's Amendment to the claims begins on sheet 5 of this Amendment; and Applicant's Remarks begin on sheet 14 of this Amendment.

Amendments to the Drawings:

Exhibit A includes Replacement sheets showing Figures 1-5 and Annotated Marked-up Drawings showing amendments to Figures 1 and 4. Figures 1 and 4 have been amended to correct informalities identified by the examiner. No new matter has been added.

Amendment to the Specification:

Please replace the last paragraph on page 5 of the subject application with the following amended paragraph:

Figure 1 illustrates a typical printed circuit card having a number of terminations 12 and at least one connection 14 to the back plane of the chassis 15 (not shown in Figure 1). The card 10 includes a faceplate 16 ~~[[14]]~~ which is visible externally of the chassis when the card is installed therein. The faceplate 16 includes plural apertures 18 which provide access to the terminations 12 of the card.

Please replace the third paragraph on page 7 of the subject application with the following amended paragraph:

As illustrated in Figure 4, the terminations 12 of the card must resist the forces placed thereon by the connectors 30 and conductors 32 ~~[[12]]~~. However, and as suggested in the adaptors 40 illustrated in Figure 6, the connectors 30 of Figure 4 may be provided with any suitable conventional means for attachment to the faceplate 20 so that the forces from the connector 30 and conductor 32 may be transferred to the faceplate 20 rather than to the card 10.

Please replace the paragraph spanning pages 7 and 8 of the subject application with the following amended paragraph:

In many cases the weight of the connector 30 [[26]] and the conductor cause a sharp bend in the conductor 32 because of the [[he]] effects of gravity. In other instances, the location of the peripheral equipment dictates the direction the conductor 32 must take from the card 10, and that direction may be up as suggested in Figures 1 and 4, down as suggested in Figures 6 and 7, or laterally.

Amendment to the Claims:

Please cancel Claim 11.

1. (Currently Amended) A system for the selective attachment of a connector fitted conductor from a remote transceiver to one of a plurality of terminations on a printed circuit card installed within the chassis of the hub equipment of a millimeter wave point-to-multipoint communications system, said system comprising:

a chassis;

a plurality of printed circuit cards operatively installed in said chassis ~~ehasssis~~, each of said printed circuit cards having a faceplate and a plurality of terminations each adapted for operative connection to a connector on the distal end of the conductor from a remote transceiver, said faceplate having a plurality of apertures in predetermined locations relative to said terminations;

an insert panel carried by and overlying said faceplate, said panel having at least one adaptor for the selective connection on the external side thereof to the connector on the distal end of a conductor from a remote transceiver, each of said at least one adaptors being in alignment with one of the apertures in said faceplate so that the internal side of said adaptor extends therethrough in proximity to one of the terminations of said printed circuit card; and means for electrically connecting the internal side of said adaptor to one of said terminations, the support of said at least an ~~[[on]]~~ adaptor by said faceplate removing the weight of the connector and conductor from the remote transceiver from the printed circuit card to which connected.

2. (Original) The system of Claim 1 wherein said means for electrically connecting the internal side of each of said adaptors to said card is a jumper cable.

3. (Original) The system of Claim 1 wherein said means for electrically connecting the internal side of each of said adaptors to said card is a connector carried by said card.

4. (Original) The system of Claim 1 wherein the external side of each of said adaptors extends downwardly to reduce gravity induced stress in the conductor attached thereto

5. (Original) The system of Claim 4 wherein the downward angle is approximately forty five degrees below the horizontal

6. (Original) A system for the selective attachment of a connector fitted conductor from a remote peripheral component to one of a plurality of terminations on a printed circuit card installed within the chassis of an electrical component without supporting any of the weight of the connector or the conductor by the printed circuit card, said system comprising:

an electrical component having a chassis with at least one printed circuit card operatively installed therein, said printed circuit card having a faceplate and a plurality of terminations each adapted for operative connection to a connector on the distal end of the conductor from a remote peripheral component, said faceplate having a plurality of apertures in predetermined locations relative to said terminations;

an insert panel carried by and overlying said faceplate, said panel having at least one adaptor for the selective connection on the external side thereof to the connector on the distal end of a conductor from a peripheral component, each of said at least one adaptor being in alignment with one of the apertures in said faceplate so that the internal side of said adaptor extends therethrough in proximity to one of said terminations; and means for electrically connecting the internal side of said adaptor to one of said terminations, the support of said at least one adaptor said faceplate removing the weight of the connector and conductor from the peripheral component from the one of said terminations to which connected.

7. (Original) The system of Claim 6 wherein said means for electrically connecting the internal side of each of said adaptor to said card is a flexible conductor.

8. (Original) The system of Claim 6 wherein said means for electrically connecting the internal side of each of said adaptors to said card is a connector carried by said card.

9. (Original) The system of Claim 1 wherein the external side of each of said adaptors extends downwardly to reduce gravity induced stress in the conductor attached thereto

10. (Original) The system of Claim 9 wherein the angle of the external side of said adaptor is between about forty and about sixty degrees below the horizontal.

11. (Cancelled).

12. (Currently Amended) ~~The system of Claim 11~~ In a system having a circuit card with a plurality of terminations adapted for selective operative connection to a remote peripheral component, and a faceplate with a plurality of apertures in predetermined locations relative to said terminations, wherein said operative connection is by way of a through-connector carried by an insert panel overlying and carried by said faceplate, the improvement wherein the external side of said through-connector is downwardly angled to reduce the stress on any attached conductor.

13. (Original) A system for the selective attachment of a connector fitted conductor from a remote transceiver to one of a plurality of terminations on a printed circuit card installed within the chassis of the hub equipment of a millimeter wave point-to-multipoint communications system, said system comprising:

a chassis;

a plurality of printed circuit cards operatively installed in said chassis, each of said printed circuit cards having a faceplate and a plurality of terminations each adapted for operative connection to a connector on the distal end of the conductor from a remote transceiver, said faceplate having a plurality of apertures in predetermined locations relative to said terminations;

an insert panel carried by and overlying said faceplate, said insert panel having at least one aperture in a predetermined location relative to the apertures in said faceplate to thereby selectively control access of to said terminations through the apertures in said faceplate by a remote transceiver.

14. (Original) The system of Claim 13 including means for supporting said connector by said insert panel to thereby reduce the weight of said connector on the terminations of said printed circuit card.

15. (Original) The system of Claim 14 wherein the external side of said connector extends downwardly to reduce gravity induced stress in the conductor attached thereto

16. (Original) The system of Claim 4 wherein the downward angle is approximately forty five degrees below the horizontal

17. (Currently Amended) In a system having a circuit card with a plurality of terminations adapted for selective attachment to a remote peripheral component, and a faceplate with a plurality of apertures in predetermined locations relative to said terminations, the improvement comprising an insert panel overlying said faceplate, said insert panel having at least one aperture in a predetermined location relative to the apertures in said faceplate, wherein the faceplate covers at least one of said plurality of terminations to thereby selectively control access of a remote peripheral to said terminations.

18. (Original) In a system having a chassis for supporting a plurality of printed circuit cards, each of said cards having an apertured faceplate and a plurality of terminations for the selective operative attachment of a peripheral component, said system having plural peripheral components selectively operatively connected to one of said terminations, a method of supporting the connection between the peripheral components and the card comprising:

(a) overlaying an apertured insert panel on the faceplate so that access to one of the terminations is available through aligned apertures in the faceplate and the insert panel;

(b) attaching the insert panel to the chassis; and

(c) supporting the connector of the peripheral equipment to the insert panel while electrically connecting the connector to one of the terminations so that the weight of the connector is carried by the chassis rather than the card.

19. (Original) In a system having a chassis for supporting a plurality of printed circuit cards, each of said cards having an apertured faceplate and a plurality of terminations for the selective operative attachment of a peripheral component, said system having plural peripheral components selectively operatively connected to one of said terminations, a method of supporting the connection between the peripheral components and the card comprising:

(a) providing an insert panel with at least one through-panel adaptor;

(b) positioning the insert panel on the faceplate so that an adaptor extends through one of the apertures in the faceplate into proximity to one of the terminations;

(c) establishing an electrical connection between the adaptor and the one of the terminations; and

(d) attaching the insert panel to the chassis to thereby support the connector of the peripheral equipment from the chassis rather than the termination to which electrically connected.

20. (Currently Amended) In a system having a chassis for supporting a plurality of printed circuit cards, each of said cards having an apertured faceplate and a plurality of terminations for the selective operative attachment of a peripheral component, said system having plural peripheral components selectively operatively connected to one of said terminations, a method of controlling the access of peripheral components to the cards comprising:

(a) providing an insert panel having electrical access port therethrough at a plurality of locations less than the number of apertures in the faceplate;

(b) positioning the insert panel in an overlying relationship to the faceplate with the ports of the insert panel aligned with selected ~~selective~~ apertures in the faceplate so that access to the terminations of the card is controlled.

21. (Original) The method of Claim 20 wherein the ports are apertures.

22. (Original) The method of Claim 20 wherein the ports are adaptors.

23. (Currently Amended) An insert panel for the apertured faceplate of a printed circuit card having a plurality of connectable terminations therein comprising:

a generally planar elongated panel adapted to be carried in an overlying relationship to the apertured faceplate of the ~~the~~ printed circuit card;

a plurality of ports carried by said panel at predetermined locations along the length thereof corresponding to the location of selected apertures in the faceplate, wherein said selected apertures correspond to at least one of said plurality of terminations and said faceplate covers at least one of said plurality of terminations to control access to said connectable terminations.

24. (Original) The panel of Claim 23 wherein said ports are apertures.

25. (Currently Amended) The panel of Claim 23 wherein said ports are adaptors having an internal connection extending through an aperture in the faceplate when said panel is [[.]] carried thereby.

26. (Original) The panel of Claim 25 wherein the external portion said adaptors are downwardly angled to reduce the stress on any conductor connected thereto.

27. (Original) The panel of Claim 26 wherein the angle is between about 40° and 60° below the horizontal.

28. (New) A method of providing selective access to a plurality of printed circuit cards having a plurality of terminations comprising the steps of:

- (a) providing a faceplate having a plurality of apertures;
- (b) connecting the faceplate to at least one of the plurality of printed circuit cards;
- (c) selecting at least one of the plurality of terminations;
- (d) arranging the apertured faceplate to allow access to the at least one selected termination; and
- (e) attaching a peripheral component to the at least one selected termination to thereby allow selective access to the printed circuit card.

29. (New) A method of providing support for a printed circuit card having a plurality of terminations comprising the steps of:

(a) providing a faceplate operatively connected to the printed circuit card, the faceplate having a plurality of apertures in predetermined locations relative to the plurality of terminations; and

(b) connecting a peripheral component to at least one termination by way of a downwardly angled through-connector to thereby reduce the stress on any attached conductor.

REMARKS

Claims 1-10 and 12-29 are pending with the entry of this Amendment.

Claim 11 has been cancelled.

Claims 28 and 29 have been added.

Applicant's counsel extends his gratitude to Examiner Phan for the courtesies extended during the telephonic discussion in June 2005 regarding abandonment of the subject application. Applicant has submitted a petition to withdraw holding of abandonment concurrently with the present Amendment.

Amendment to the Drawings

Figures 1 and 4 have been amended to reflect the proposed drawing correction suggested by the examiner. No new matter has been added.

Reconsideration and acceptance of the amended Figures are hereby respectfully requested.

Claim Objections

Claim 25 has been amended to correct the informality identified by the examiner. Reconsideration and withdrawal of the objection is hereby solicited.

Amendment to the Specification

The specification has been amended to correct improper drawing reference numbers. No new matter has been added.

The Rejection under 35 U.S.C. §102

The Office Action rejected Claims 11 and 12 under 35 U.S.C. §102(e) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 6,144,561 to Cannella, et al. (“Cannella”). Independent Claim 11 has been cancelled and Claim 12 has been amended to incorporate the limitations of Claim 11.

The examiner references Figure 1 of Cannella and asserts that Cannella discloses, inter alia, “the external side of said through-connector is downwardly angled to reduce the stress on any attached conductor.” Applicant cannot find any disclosure, teaching or suggestion in Figure 1 of Cannella or in the corresponding portions of the specification for Figure 1 (Col. 4, line 37 to Col. 6, line 49) regarding the assertion. In contrast, Cannella simply discloses that “each rear panel assembly 15 typically includes one or more electrical connectors 50...mounted to the rear panel assembly 15 in a position to allow coupling to a connector 52 of a signal cable, 54... .” (Col. 5, ll. 58-65). This is neither a disclosure nor a teaching of an “external side of said through-connector is downwardly angled to reduce the stress on any attached conductor” as required by Claim 12. Reconsideration and allowance of Claim 12 is hereby respectfully solicited.

The Office Action rejected Claims 17, 20, 21, 23 and 24 under 35 U.S.C. §102(e) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 5,099,391 to Maggelet, et al. (“Maggelet”). Applicant has amended Claims 17, 20 and 23 to clarify the selective attachment and/or selective control of access of remote peripherals to terminations therein.

Maggelet discloses and teaches an adapter plate that provides openings to expose a plurality of input/output devices that are present on a circuit board assembly. For example, the adapter plate provides holes 72 for a screw type fastener to secure the adapter plate, holes (74, 78, 82) for access to a power supply assembly and its associated switches, holes (76, 84) for a battery holder and fuse holder, and holes (80) to provide openings for a power supply status indicator. (Figure 5, Col. 3, line 64 – Col. 4, line 19). Simply put, the adapter plate of Maggelet provides access to devices on a power supply circuit board but does not disclose any selective control or any limit of the accessibility of the terminations of a circuit card as required by Claims 17, 20, 21, 23 and 24. Reconsideration and allowance of Claims 17, 20, 21, 23 and 24 is hereby respectfully solicited.

The Rejection under 35 U.S.C. §103

The Office Action rejected Claims 1-10, 13-16, 18, 19, 22 and 25-27 under 35 U.S.C. §103 as being unpatentable over Maggelet in view of Cannella. The examiner asserts that Maggelet teaches the claimed invention with the exception that Maggelet does not teach a panel having an adaptor for removing the weight of a connector and conductor from the printed circuit board to which it is connected, and asserts that Cannella in combination with Maggelet, teaches this required limitation. Applicant agrees that Maggelet does not teach a panel having an adaptor for removing the weight of a connector and conductor from the printed circuit board to which it is connected, however, Applicant cannot find any motivation or teaching in either Maggelet or Cannella to combine the references as suggested by the examiner.

As discussed above, Maggelet is generally directed to a housing or enclosure for a power supply circuit board for programmable logic controllers and discloses an adapter plate that provides openings to expose a plurality of input/output devices that are present on a power supply board assembly but Maggelet does not selectively control or limit the accessibility of any terminations therein. Cannella is generally directed to and discloses a system for circuit board mounting racks allowing a particular slot in the rack to be reconfigured for plug-action with a particular type of circuit module, with input/output signal cables for that type of circuit module coupled to the assembly rather than directly to the circuit module in a Cable TV network. (Col. 1, line 63 – Col. 2, line 27).

Although Maggelet discloses a power supply circuit board provided with an adapter plate that provides openings to expose a plurality of input/output devices present on the circuit board, it is clear that Cannella discloses a system wherein the rack provides openings for direct access to terminals therein and teaches away from providing a system with individual face plates or adaptor plates for each circuit board card (See Figure 1). Furthermore, neither Cannella nor Maggelet teach, suggest or disclose any selective control of or limit to access of circuit board terminations. The rejection under Section 103 is improper and must be withdrawn. Reconsideration and withdrawal of the rejection of Claims 1-10, 13-16, 18, 19, 22 and 25-27 is hereby solicited.

A further and favorable action is hereby respectfully solicited. Allowance of Claims 1-10 and 12-29 is respectfully requested.

Respectfully submitted,

Mark C. Comtois
